Publication: October 2010

The modern world is passing through a time of critical change on many levels: cultural, political, ecological and spiritual. We are witnessing the decline and dissolution of the old order, the tumult and uncertainty of a new birth. Against this background, there is an urgent need for a coherent framework of meaning to guide and to lead us beyond the growing fragmentation of culture, belief and personal identity.

Keiron Le Grice provides an understanding of the role of myth and archetypal principles in our lives, based on the insights of a new cosmology.

Author: Keiron Le Grice is founder and co-editor of Archai: The Journal of Archetypal Cosmology. He holds doctoral and master's degrees in philosophy and religion from the California Institute of Integral Studies in San Francisco, where he is adjunct faculty in the Philosophy, Cosmology, and Consciousness postgraduate programme.

Water shapes our landscapes and sustains life on Earth. It also influences our emotions and inspires imagination and creativity. Yet we take it for granted, treating it as a convenience or for cleansing. In this comprehensive new book, Alick Bartholomew argues controversially that water is the medium of communication between all living organisms.

The book covers all aspects of water, from water in the cosmos and solar system, through the Earth's water cycles, to water in our bodies and in plants. It goes on to consider water's cosmic role, the memory of water, and its crucial relationship to the quantum field. This book offers an original and fascinating study of water as a vital dimension that interconnects all life on Earth.

Author: Alick Bartholomew studied Geology at Cambridge University followed by graduate studies at the University of Chicago. He is the author of Hidden Nature: The Startling Insights of Viktor Schauberg.

This book diagnoses an urgent need for change and renewal in a period of crisis for philosophy, science and society. The Florentine Renaissance, some six hundred years ago, took a huge leap forward into realism, rationality and self-awareness. We stand now at a similar junction in history.

The essays gathered in A New Renaissance aim to diagnose the sources of the crisis in today's world and search for a new understanding of consciousness that will allow a renewal of spirituality beyond religion.

Editor: David Lorimer is Programme Director of the Scientific and Medical Network, an international group of academics and professionals dedicated to an open-minded exploration of the boundaries of science.
